

Enrolling into a TAK Server via Client Certificate

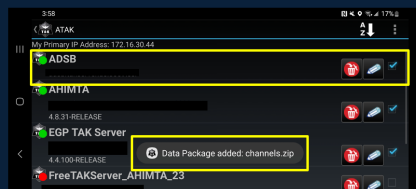

Click on the menu icon on upper right and then select ADD.

Name the connection what ever best describes the server
Check "Enroll for Client Certificate" then "ok"
An "initializing window will pop up and then a prompts to enter username and password

TAK Server added with Channel

- When a connection to a TAK Server supports channels a Data Package is loaded onto the device and the channels button will be added to the tool bar/list

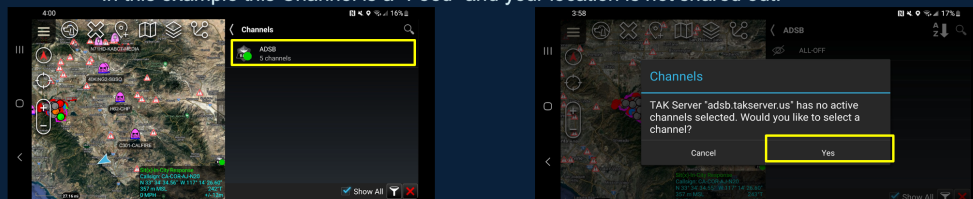

Channel Tool Icon added to toolbar

Channel Tool listed in Tool Bar overflow menu

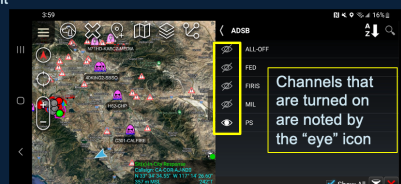

Channels

- Channels provide a way to separate and filter TAK data feeds and users into separate groups.
- Within the Channel you can turn off groups you are associated with.
- Channels can be one way or bidirectional
- In this example this Channel is a "Feed" and your location is not shared out.

- Selecting the Channel tool brings up all servers that have a Channel function
- Click on the server you wish to edit

If there are no channels selected you will get this message, click "Yes" to select channels

Channels that are turned on are noted by the "eye" icon